To our Subscribers.

The new postal law, requiring the prepayment of postage at the office of publication on all newspapers and other periodicals sent to subscribers (except to those in the county wherein the paper is published), goes into effect on the lat of January, 1875. This will impose an unwelcome and in many cases a very severe burden upon newspaper publishers, unless subscribers are willing to submit to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to reimburse to the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of the subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of the subscription sufficient to a subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of the subscription sufficient to a subscription sufficient to a subscription sufficient to a subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of the subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the price of subscription sufficient to an increase in the subscription sufficient to an increase in the subscription sufficient to an increase in the subscription sufficient to an increase in fifteen hundred dollars.

But we do not propose to resort to this, preferring rather to assume the burden ourselves, and trusting to the good will and justice of our patrons in making up to us the loss by a greater promptness in the payment of their subscriptions, and a generous co-operation with us in our efforts to extend the circulation of the Falmer, which we trust will be for the good of all concerned.

ation with us in our efforts to extend the circulation of the Faimer, which we trust will be for the good of all concerned.

It will therefore be understood that from and after January 1, 1875, unless and until the present law shall be repealed, the Maine Faimer will be sent to all subscribers, at the present rates, FREE OF POSTAGE, making a saving to each of our patrons of twenty cents per annum.

In doing this, however, we shall be compelled more strictly to enforce the published terms of the paper, viz.: Two Dollars in advance, or Two Dollars and Fifty Cents if not paid within three months of the date of subscription. The necessity and justice of this will be acknowledged, we trust, by all our fairmined patrons, when they are informed of the fact that at least one-half the subscribers of the Farner are now in arrears for the paper for various periods of time, ranging from one to ten years, compelling the publishers to carry a heavy load of indebtedness, of which prompt payment on the part of delinquent subscribers would relieve them, and at the same time enable them to make valuable improvements in the paper for the benefit of our readers. An assurance of the good intentions of the publishers in this direction, notwithstanding the large increase in their expenses by the pre-payment of postage, is in the outlay they are making for new type and other material, with which to commence the new volume of the Farner in Docember. With new type, better paper and more reading matter, we mean to deserve and hope to receive a large and remunerative accession to our subscription list.

And now a plain word to our delinquent subscrib-

SEEDS that will grow.

A NEXPERIENCE of nearly THIRTY Years in the Flower and Vegetable Need business has convinced us that there are but TWO RINDS OF SEED in the world, viz.: those that will, and those that will and, grow. The former are priceless—the inter worthless. The sale or utterance of worthless that will not, grow. The former are priceless—the latter worthless. The sale or utterance of worthless Seed, through cupidity or lack of business standing, raises and havoe with the business of legitimate Seedsmen. For nearly thirty years Past we have made the growth and procurement of NONE BUT 450DB SEED a study, until we are proud to say, toreign or native seed growers from whom we precure such of our supplies as we do not raise upon our own farms, never think of offering us any but First-Class Seeds. To this one point we attribute our success, and the universal verdict of the Press and People is, that Seed procured of BRIGGS & BROTHER WILL GROW.
